

cbse-eng-07-sci-3-2-3

It is an animal of big size which lives in hill regions and produces wool. Yak is commonly seen in Tibet and Ladakh.

Summary:

The yak is a large-sized animal that lives in hill regions and produces wool.

- Yaks are commonly found in Tibet and Ladakh.
 - Their wool is warm and used for making clothes suitable for cold climates.
 - Yak wool is an important resource for the people living in high-altitude regions.
-

Quiz:

1. Where is the yak commonly found?

- a) Tibet and Ladakh ☒
- b) Rajasthan ☐
- c) Africa ☐
- d) Australia ☐

2. What is the main use of yak wool?

- a) Making warm clothes ☒
- b) Making plastic products ☐
- c) Making leather shoes ☐
- d) Producing edible oil ☐

3. What kind of region does the yak live in?

- a) Hill regions ☒
- b) Deserts ☐
- c) Rainforests ☐
- d) Coastal areas ☐

4. Why is yak wool important?

- a) It provides warmth in cold climates ☒
- b) It is used for making paper ☐

c) It is used to make glass ✕

d) It helps in growing crops ✕