

cbse-eng-07-sci-3-2-4

Angora goat. It is originally found in the region of Angora in Turkey. But it is also seen in the hill areas of Jammu and Kashmir.

Angora goat gives the fiber named Mohair which is very fine, durable, light and worn. This fiber is mainly used to make ladies sweaters.

Summary:

The Angora goat is originally from Angora in Turkey but is also found in the hilly regions of Jammu and Kashmir.

- The Angora goat produces a special fiber called Mohair.
 - Mohair is fine, durable, lightweight, and warm.
 - This fiber is mainly used to make ladies' sweaters and other warm clothing.
-

Quiz:

1. Where is the Angora goat originally found?

- a) Angora, Turkey ☒
- b) Africa ☐
- c) Australia ☐
- d) South America ☐

2. What fiber is obtained from the Angora goat?

- a) Mohair ☒
- b) Pashmina ☐
- c) Silk ☐
- d) Wool ☐

3. Where is the Angora goat also found besides Turkey?

- a) Jammu and Kashmir ☒
- b) Rajasthan ☐
- c) Japan ☐
- d) Antarctica ☐

4. What is Mohair mainly used for?

- a) Making ladies' sweaters ☒
- b) Making plastic bags ✕
- c) Making cotton sarees ✕
- d) Making leather shoes ✕